Citizens On Patrol Society visits Chamber

Representatives of Elk Point's newly formed Citizens On Patrol Society (C.O.P.S.) visited the March 15 meeting of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce, and explained the purpose and operation of this new volunteer group, whose aim is decreasing the crime rate in the community and making Elk Point a better place to live.

C.O.P.S. has elected an executive, and has about 25 members at the present time. Similar to Rural Crime Watch and Oil Patch Watch, the function of the volunteers is to observe, take notes and report suspicious persons and incidents to the police. They are equipped only with a cell phone and a notepad, and will make random patrols several nights a week. Elk Point RCMP have six or seven members, and "are not necessarily here in town all the time. C.O.P.S. gives extra coverage for the community," the C.O.P.S. spokesman told the Chamber. "We want to make our community unattractive to criminals. We want them to know they're not welcome here."

RCMP Sgt. Lyle Marianchuk added that the area has "lots of crime prevention programs already. Their purpose is to prevent crime. It doesn't give [program members] the power to do anything themselves, but it makes a formal process out of looking out for your neighbors." Their purpose is "to assist RCMP members in keeping out and preventing criminal activity."

Marianchuk said it's "not even close to reality" to expect such a program could mean the end of RCMP policing in Elk Point. "These programs won't affect whether we'll be here in five or ten years. There is absolutely no indication that [discontinuation of the detachment] could happen."

The community-driven program was initiated by Elk Point's Community Advisory Policing Committee, a volunteer group made up of a cross section of community residents, in response to recent vandalism, break-and-enters and thefts. Part of the training includes taking a ride-along with the RCMP members. Members of the group remain anonymous. C.O.P.S. would welcome more volunteers, and will meet again on April 18 at Elk Point United Church.

Grants are available to cover the expenses of C.O.P.S. programs, but would not be available until June, and in the meantime the group is looking for donations from businesses and individuals. The group received their first $100 donation earlier that morning toward such expenses as gasoline vouchers, cell phone costs and future signage.

Chamber president Eugene Buck wished the new group all possible success, and encouraged members to support its endeavors.

Other business coming before the Chamber included signing the contract for the Big Top Circus. Buck said the promotional material looks exciting and he is looking forward to the event, which "will be here when they get here." The Chamber's involvement includes aggressive advance ticket sales, and arranging for water, electricity and a location to hold the circus.

The Service Best seminar has 34 registrations and will be held Monday, March 27 in the Seniors Recreation Centre. The Chamber will provide beverages and snacks for the coffee

Elk Point Community Choir and Friends continue their tradition of excellence

In a small Russian village around the turn of the last century, a slight, bearded figure stands high atop the roof of a humble tailor's shop. With trembling hands, he lifts the bow to his fiddle and plays a slow and mournful melody....

It is the eve of the Russian Revolution of 1905 and only strict adherence to traditions keeps life in the small Jewish community of Anatevka as becoming as shaky as a Fiddler on the Roof.

Last Thursday was opening night for the Elk Point Community Choir and Friends and their 2000 production of "Fiddler on the Roof." Tickets for the six nights of dinner theatre went on sale last November, and were sold out in less than a week.

Those who had seen the group's previous productions, including the outstanding "Les Miserables" in 1998, were again impressed by the talent displayed by this collection of amateur thespians. Those who had not attended one of the earlier plays were amazed at the caliber of entertainment they enjoyed.

Randall Kryss, for whom the role fulfilled a lifelong dream, stars as Tevye, the dairyman, with Dixie Coleman starring in her third Community Choir role as his wife Golde. Romy Rohner, Kelsey Mueller, Michelle Friesen, Erin Mueller and Chelsey Buryn play the couple's five daughters.

In those days, tradition demanded that "the Papa makes the decision" who his daughters will marry, and this story centres around Tevye's attempts to see his daughters wed. Yente, the matchmaker, played by St. Paul newcomer Marian Tidsbury, is determined to find husbands for them, but, tradition notwithstanding, these girls have minds of their own.

While Tevye meets with the middle-aged butcher (Udo Mueller) who has told Yente he is interested in the oldest girl, Tzeitel, Tzeitel and Motel, the town's tailor (Don Buryn) are growing increasingly determined to wed. Hodel, the second daughter, falls for a rabble-rousing student from Kiev (Shaun Sheplaw) and Chava, the third daughter, makes a most unsuitable match with a non-Jew (Garry Townsend).

All this takes place against a rich tapestry of village life — the tavern, where Mordcha the innkeeper (Lawrence Pidluzny) dispenses hospitality and advice, the village square where gossip runs amok, Tevye and Golde's home, where Jewish customs are held sacred, and the advice of those who come back from beyond the grave (Debbie Lawrence and Rita Bartholomew) is taken seriously.

Harry Peters, Peter Makarus, Santo Arrigo, George Sanders, John Gottenbos, Mabel Gottenbos, Linda Peters, Andrew and Mike Yaremko also star in the production.

The famous musical numbers — "Tradition," "If I Were a Rich Man," "Matchmaker," "Sunrise, Sunset" and many more — were performed with skill and enthusiasm, accompanied by Barb Bury at the piano and Kim Beardy on clarinet. Gabe Bayduza starred as the fiddler. Kali Jo Coleman was page turner and Krymsen Coleman was prompter. The play was directed and produced by Don Conrad.

Stage manager Dave Pilisko was joined by Harry Peters, George

Sanders, Jope Langejans, John Mohyluk and numerous volunteer painters to create the sets from a handmade wooden pump and carefully crafted cart to a thatched-roof barn and a humble house with shutters and scalloped eaves. Rob Walker was assisted in the lighting and sound department by Jason Morris and Tyson Lawrence, while Emily Mueller was in charge of costumes, assisted by Mabel Gottenbos, Peggy Adomaitis, Debbie Lawrence and Ellen Seward, with the latter two also responsible for makeup.

With three performances behind them at this point, there are three yet to go, 600 more fans to delight with the sights and sounds of this world-famous musical, presented by a dedicated and talented cast.

The First Day of Spring has arrived

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

Yes, can you believe that the first day of spring was Monday, March 20? Why, someone must have written our calendars incorrectly, you say. After all, "Mother Nature" has been giving us snow! And.. we all know that snow falls during the winter season. So, one of us must be confused. The logical fact is: either the people who write our calendars or "Mother Nature" is confused.

Well, I guess it is OK to experience variety in each season. So to look at it that way, no one is confused. It also can be said that no one is perfect - not even "Mother Nature." Besides, we have had a nice winter. Thank you, "Mother Nature."

Now it is on to the next season. Actually, I like spring. I love to see the birth of new animals on the farm and the first buds on the trees. I enjoy the newness and freshness of spring. Renewed energy can also be seen all around us.

Speaking of renewed energy, how did you all do with your St. Patrick's Day celebrations? According to the 1996 Canada Census, almost 83,000 Edmontonians, 412,000 Albertans and 3.8 million Canadians lay claim to some Irish ancestry. Therefore, there must be a few of us who live in Elk Point who lay claim to some Irish ancestry. I hope you all had a good celebration with your family and friends.

It is said that from a population of only five million, Ireland (including both Eire and Northern Ireland) boasts some of the most beloved and successful writers and musicians of all time. From satirist Jonathan Swift, to writers James Joyce and Roddy Doyle, and musicians from The Chieftains to The Cranberries, the Irish have entertained the world. The Dublin rock group U2 has sold more than 70 million albums since the early 1980s. And don't forget the dancers. Riverdance has performed to more than three million people since it was formed in 1994. And then there's Lord of the Dance... The Irish have also given us some of the finest performances on stage and screen. What would Lawrence of Arabia have been without the brilliant Peter O'Toole or Schindler's List without Liam Neeson. ... A few other literary names to remember: Thomas Moore, Sean O'Casey, Liam O'Flaherty, George Bernard Shaw, John Synge, Oscar Wilde and William B. Yeats. The list goes on...

There is so much to say about the Irish, but as we begin our spring season, I would like to quote the Irish Blessing from St. Patrick and wish you all the best as you start the season of spring...

"May the road rise up to meet you,

May the wind be always at your back,

May the sun shine warm upon your face,

The rains fall soft upon your fields, and

Until we meet again,

May God hold you in the palm of His hand."

Bienvenue à Elk Point!

New sportfishing regulations now available

By Paul Langevin, MLA
Lac La Biche - St. Paul

Alberta Environment's guide to the rules and regulations for the upcoming fishing season is now available. The 2000 Alberta Guide to Sportfishing Regulations has been shipped to license retailers and other locations across the province, such as sporting goods stores. The guide is available, free of charge, to anyone who requests a copy.

In addition to the fishing rules, the 2000 Guide also features several articles and other fisheries management information. Anglers will be particularly interested in new spring closures that were announced in last year's regulations. The new sportfishing regulations begin on April 1 and it is important that all anglers read and abide by the closure dates described in the guide.

In the Prairie Region of southern Alberta, most lakes, reservoirs, streams and canals will close on April 1, 2000, re-open on May 8, 2000 and remain open until March 16, 2001. In the Parkland Region of central Alberta and the Boreal Region of northern Alberta, lakes will close on April 1, 2000, re-open on May 19, 2000 (the Friday of the May long weekend) and remain open until March 31, 2001. The existing closures from November 1 to May 31 for streams in the Boreal Region of northern Alberta will continue.

The new guide details when spring closures come into effect and when areas reopen. After looking through the guide, questions about spring closures or anything else related to fish management can be directed to local Alberta Environment offices.

Alberta has about 800 lakes that support natural sport fish populations and over 350,000 anglers that fish them - a ratio of about 400 anglers per lake. By comparison, Saskatchewan and Manitoba each have a ratio of about two anglers per lake. In Alberta, walleye are only found in about 175 lakes and pike in about 400 lakes.

Costs to produce the guide are offset by selling advertising space in the guide.

Determinants help grant decisions

By Keith Robinson
Staff Writer

With the Action For Health community grants deadline a month away, the committee is waiting to see what types of proposals and how many proposals they will receive.

Betty Gray, the Action For Health project administrator, says what they have received to date, "show people have an increased awareness" to what information they are seeking.

"Part of the formula to help determine where money is distributed is the 12 determinants of health," explains Gray. "No determinant stands alone. They interact together and their complex interactions have an even greater impact on health."

The 12 determinants of health include: income and social status; social support network; education; employment and working conditions; social environments; physical environment; personal health practices and coping skills; healthy child development; culture; health services; gender; biology and genetic endowment.

Our problem-solving and coping skills, sense of identity, abilities to communicate and express ourselves, the degree of control we feel over our life circumstances, and the lifestyle choices we make are key influences on our physical, mental, emotional and spiritual health.

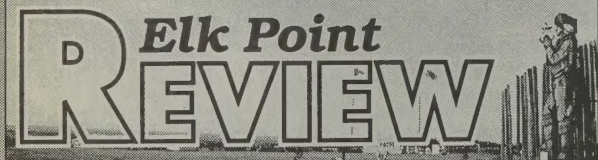

These abilities and characteristics, which affect our resistance to disease, are shaped during early childhood and are influenced by day to day living and working conditions.

Once the selection process is complete, Gray hopes to announce this year's recipients at the end of May. "People are starting to get them in early, but I do expect a large number of applications prior to the deadline."

Gray adds that to help make our communities healthy and safe places to live, each of us (including our families, communities, organizations, businesses, and all levels of government) have to work together to successfully address the determinants of health.

Last year, Action for Health funded 71 projects across the region.

REACH offers Town economic development assistance

George Rife and Dick Miller of REACH Corporation visited Town Council's March 13 meeting to offer the Town assistance with economic development planning in the community.

Rife said the process involved deciding what goals the town has and what resources are available. He offered a number of publications with information on marketing opportunities, practices for attracting new businesses and investment, and survival of small rural communities.

"We're not talking about bringing in the McCains and the Maple Leafs," he noted. "We have to start developing from within."

Rife inquired about people in the immediate surrounding area: "Would or should they be included?"

In this vein, he commented on the Main Street Program. "What if it went all the way to Heinsburg? We'd have a lot more people, and get more volunteers involved." County of St. Paul divisions 1 and 2 have a population of approximately 1500 people, "and there may be a balance that could be struck. I'm not saying you should, you make the decision." Another alternative would be to begin economic development in Elk Point and possibly add the County at a later time.

Alberta Economic Development Authority wants to get regional economic development underway, Rife said, and are offering help through REACH. "We're here, and will give you some help. We don't have a set formula for success -- that has to come from yourself."

Mayor Ed Buck noted that Elk Point has "so many organizations fighting for funding. To get them all together would be a humongous task." He mentioned the "continual fight to keep what we have" such as the Health Centre and Northern Lights Library Headquarters, and noted that he had been unsuccessful in his bid for a seat on the Regional Health Authority board.

"We have to sit down and take a look at keeping what we have," Buck said. "We would love to have the County come in with us. What we are really hoping for is someone with time to plant the seeds" of economic development. Regarding the Main Street Program, Buck said, "to tell people how to spend their money isn't easy... the benefits to businesses are hard to measure. Let's do the basics first."

Other business coming before Council included the passage of new Traffic Bylaw 606/99, which had some changes after its second reading due to the change in location of the post office and changes regarding signage in the school area. New "no parking" signage is to be put along Highway 41 and beside the Servus Credit Union on 50th Avenue, and signage is now being made for the revamped truck route, which among other changes, cuts out 50th Avenue and Main Street, except for deliveries.

Also on the subject of streets, Mayor Buck clarified the area designated in the Town's application for a Road to Resources grant. It would rebuild the road east from Hillside Service to the Town shop, then south to 50th Avenue and east past the truss plant to the Town limits. "It's not a bypass," he emphasized, "just rebuilding a road that carries up to 150 big trucks every day."

Council discussed a proposed fire protection agreement with the County of St. Paul, which would have Elk Point take over control of fire-fighting in the eastern part of the County for a set fee. Buck felt this "puts us in a position of contracting out services," which would substantially increase the responsibilities of the volunteer firefighting department. He also noted that there was no provision in the agreement for replacement of equipment such as the rescue unit. The agreement was tabled for further study.

Also tabled was the County of St. Paul landfill agreement. The regional landfill commission has now received provincial approval and will have final say regarding responsibilities. In the meantime, Mayor Buck and council have questions about road maintenance, user percentages and cost sharing.

Council approved donations of $100 each to the Friends of the Forts and the Citizens On Patrol Society and $50 toward the Heinsburg Community Club's water tower refurbishing project, but drew the line on their generosity when it came to one of the oil companies, which has declined to pay a yearly user fee for landing rights at Elk Point Municipal Airport. Two other companies operating in the area not only paid the fees but made extra donations toward airport operations. The company in question has paid on a per-use basis for the three times in two years they used the strip, but won't pay a yearly fee. Mayor Buck said the airfield is not only there for business flights coming in, but for emergency use in case of an oilfield accident. "The others are paying, why should they be different?" he asked. "It could be their workers that need to be flown out in an emergency."

Successful Provincial tournament result of many volunteers

By Doug Bassett
Review Sports

During the Midget Girls Provincials opening ceremonies, Ed Babenek commented on the great job that I have done, and he made it sound like it was all my doing. Thanks, Ed, but you were wrong, and even if it did feel great to hear it, and even though I will take some of the credit, there's a lot of other people that should be thanked.

So many people pitched in and volunteered to help, so where, oh where do we start? OK, here we go, starting with Sue Campbell, our tournament chairperson, for hours and hours on the phone, typing letters, and four days at the arena. To Gillian Cousins, not only does she do a great job as the Storm team manager, but lined up concession workers and supplies for the tournament. To Tammy Anderson for doing a great job on the program, and she doesn't even have any kids playing on the team! To Diane Proskiwi for organizing the runners, to Darlene Kozicky and the Peewee Avalanche for their great job cleaning, to Keith Campbell and all the other timekeepers, the music was great and entertaining. Where did you get all that cool stuff from the '60s and '70s? It brought back so many memories, but that's another story.

Big Ray and the 50/50 salesmen, Lucille Smith and all her workers at the front door, master of ceremonies Ed Babenek, all the concession workers, the Skating Club leading the teams onto the ice, Michelle Friesen, Fiona Smith, the Chamber of Commerce, Sherry Pelech and the donors for the pancake breakfast, Terry Hebblethwaite and the decorating committee, Ted Genereux and his crew for an excellent job on the ice. And to anyone else whom I may have missed, thanks once again.

This Provincial weekend would have fallen apart without all the volunteers, but year after year we pull it off, and this one was the biggest challenge yet, ten teams and four days. Yes, the future of Elk Point hockey is looking good.

Now back to the regular season...

The Novice Hurricanes played the only home game this past weekend at the 'Dome, doubling Vermilion 8 to 4. Looking like they are ready to move up and belong there, rookies from the Micro Novice Tornados team who will be there next year in the lineup, Tanner Shankowski, Harrison Maas, Brendan Bishop, Quillan Lowry, Mike Marianchuk and Dylan Loughran. A hat trick for the man with great wheels, speedster Chevy Botting, two for Micro Novice player

Dylan Loughran, and a single for Josh Weir. Kameron Ballas, who played on defense for the first two periods, turned on the jets in the third when he was moved to play forward, pulling away from the Vermilion defense and getting two exciting breakaway goals. A big, solid looking defenseman with a promising future, Jordan Krankowski, may not have gotten any glory, but he looks like a natural back there on the blue line. Every great team has a kingpin on defense. Another promising player, who doesn't care for players infringing on his doorstep, goaltender Jerin Bezpalko, had another solid game, just like so many other times this season.

The Peewee Girls Cyclones ended their season on Saturday, playing in the playoff final tournament in Lashburn where they defeated Viking 7 to 0. Brett Hahn with a hat trick, Krysten Ballas with two, Brittney Ballas and Megan Proskiwi with singles. The Cyclones then lost their second game to the strong team from Lloydminster, 7 to 1. Scoring the only goal in this one, sniper Brett Hahn. The Cyclones season may be over, but that doesn't mean all the Cyclones will be finished just yet, many of them will now be helping the Midget Storm for the rest of the season, the Storm with two league games left this coming weekend at home, and then their playoff tournament on April 1 and 2 in Cold Lake. The peewee girls may be just the ticket the Storm needs for winning their league.

Coming up tonight at the Dome, the Thunder will be playing Mallaig in the second game of their two game, total point playoff series, the Thunder winning by two goals on Friday night in Mallaig. Wouldn't it be ironic if the Thunder beat out the team that beat them out in the zone to go to Provincials?

Now, talking a little more about Provincials, Kevin Moneta and Shaun Slywka and the rest of the Bantam Colts lost out in Coronation on the weekend in the Provincial D final tournament, but at least the boys had a good season and still got to the big show.

Provincial gold!

Four other Elk Point boys who have been playing bantam hockey in St. Paul this season, Colton Hoffman, Kyle Nielsen, Mark Letestu and Melvin Easthope, also got to go to the big show, and not only did they go, they have won a provincial gold medal in Medicine Hat at the Bantam A tournament.

Good job, boys, provincial gold medals are very hard to come by!

Coming up next week on Tuesday night, March 28, an Elk Point Minor Hockey meeting to summarize the Midget Girls provincial tournament and the season, and a look into next season. Everyone is welcome, and hopefully we will have a good turnout. Then on Sunday, April 2, Minor Hockey will be working a special $100,000 satellite bingo. Twenty five workers are required for this one, so contact Lucie Krankowski at 645-2223 if you can help out. And last of all, the annual Minor Hockey windup pot luck dinner and awards night will be on April 15, contact Susan MacKinnon at 724-2022 for more information.

F. G. Miller Crusaders learn St. John's Ambulance first aid

By Leanne Wilson
Student Journalist

Hello from F. G. Miller High School. Well, Grade 10 students are now prepared to handle emergency crises. On Thursday and Friday, March 9 and 10, a St. John's Ambulance First Aid course was offered to Grade 10 students through the CALM (Career and Life Management) class. The course, taught by Ms. Sandra Lorenson, included emergency scene management, artificial respiration, cardiovascular emergencies, CPOR, and how to handle choking and severe cuts. Thank you to Ms. Lorenson for dedicating her time to instruct the students.

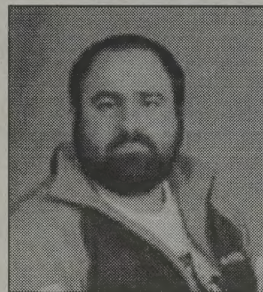

On March 23, students will receive a "Crash Course" in Positive Behavior. The goal of this multimedia presentation, designed by Motivational Media, is to raise awareness among students about making positive choices. The presentation includes issues on drinking and driving, smoking, substance abuse and violence. It will be presented in an interesting way to young adults with current movie clips, top 10 music hits and important issues. Parents are also welcome to come.

Feature Teacher

Mr. Randall Kryns, our Junior/Senior Music and Social Studies 13, 23, 33 instructor, is our Feature Teacher for this week. Mr. Kryns was born and raised in northeastern Alberta and has always loved this area. After graduating from St. Paul Regional High School, he attended the University of Alberta where he obtained a Bachelor of Education. Mr. Kryns has also worked as a janitor, security guard, a sound crew person, camp counsellor/instructor, carded referee for basketball and football, and has played in a band.

RANDALL KRYNS

Mr. Kryns began teaching at F. G. Miller in 1991, but had experience here previously because he interned at our high school in 1986. Mr. Kryns has taught many courses including Physical Education, Outdoor Education 9, Science 9, junior high Health, and Social Studies 7, 8, 9, 10, 13, 23, 33. Previous to F. G. Miller, he held teaching positions at J. A. Williams High School, Lac La Biche, where he taught music for the learning disabled, and at Dr. Swift Junior High (Grades 8 - 9) where he instructed Music, Math, and Phys. Ed.

In his spare time, Mr. Kryns loves to go fishing and boating, reading, playing various instruments, playing chess, football, basketball, handball, and participating in Knights of Columbus. He also loves to sing, act and direct. It is in this field where Mr. Kryns has a chance to accomplish one of his goals by playing Tevye in the Elk Point Community Choir and Friends production of "Fiddler on the Roof." He would still love to play two other roles, conduct a 50-member concert band, and is still working on achieving his goal of becoming Alberta's best Social Studies teacher.

Mr. Kryns is involved in many extracurricular activities such as being a member of the Team Handball Advisory Council and the Elk Point Community Choir. He also participates in the Elk Point Community Choir Drama productions, is a gymnasium supervisor, does fundraising for Handball and Music, and organizes Fine Arts Night and Concert in the Park for F. G. Miller High School. Mr. Kryns would like to say that F. G. Miller is a great school with many positive things going on — all you have to do is want to be involved!

Well, that's all from the halls of F. G. Miller for this week...

Windsor Club regional cribbage

FIRST TIME CHAMPION -- Len Stenvall of Riverton (right) won the "A" side with a clear two-game victory over Dorothy MacMillan. Bill Pacholek presented the Chemical Workers Union Local 474 trophy to the winner.

The Windsor Club hosted their annual Regional Cribbage Championships on Saturday, March 18, with 11 winning participants from ten communities taking part. Players came from Landonville, Lindbergh, Ferguson Flats, Riverton, Secondary Highway 640, St. Andrews, Marwayne (2), Bonnyville, Clandonald and Elk Point for the evening of fierce competition.

Section A winner Len Stenvall of Riverton ousted Dorothy McMillan of St. Andrews in two games, while "B" champion Ann Nohnychuk of Marwayne and Julie Boyko went right down to the wire in their exciting third game before a winner was declared.

B SIDE CHAMPION Ann Nohnychuk of Marwayne was presented with the Valley Services trophy by Bill Pacholek.

Legion awards presented

Elk Point Royal Canadian Legion president Louis Verhagen said his group was surprised to learn that the only winners going on to district level in their annual Poppy Contest came from Elk Point schools.

These three winners were presented with their certificates and awards at the March meeting of the Legion.

Amanda Frisby won first in the Senior Poem category at District level, and went on to Zone level, winning again and going on to Command competition.

Ashley Hebblethwaite and Amy Millar both placed second in Intermediate Poster at District level.

Watch for the St. Paul SPRING SELLERS FAIR

April 27, 28 and 29, 2000.

Sponsored in part by The St. Paul Journal.

what's NEWS at the LIBRARY?

It's spring — check out our new gardening books!

By Daphne Schnurer
Librarian

With spring here on the calendar and hopefully just around the corner weather-wise, we have some great gardening books and magazines available. Just to mention a few: Pocket Gardening, a guide to gardening in impossible places; The Rodale Book of Composting - improve your soil, recycle kitchen and yard wastes, grow healthier plants and create an earth-safe garden. Also take a look at some great magazines, including Birds and Blooms, Gardening Life and a brand new magazine, Canadian Gardening.

The library will be gearing up for a Spring Book Sale on June 3 in conjunction with the Car Show and Chamber of Commerce Garage Sale. Be sure to mark that date on your calendar. And when you're spring cleaning, remember: donations will be accepted.

New Books

We also have some other great new titles available this week from Oprah's Book Club. Daughter of Fortune by Isabel Allende is a sweeping portrait of an era, a story rich in character, history, violence and compassion - a must to read.

Catherine Cookson's newest novel, Riley. Where You Belong by Barbara Taylor Bradford is the captivating story of a beautiful young woman making her way through a world filled with the dangers of war. For those readers who have anxiously been awaiting it, the first novel in the thrilling Hudson series, Rain by V. C. Andrews.

Some great new Junior and Youth titles to check out: Two books in the Everworld series by K. A. Applegate, Discover the Destroyer and Fear the Fantastic. Also new in a series, Pine Hollow and Pony Pals for our younger readers who enjoy horses.

Special thanks to Sherry Pelech and Vicki Brooker for cooking up some scrumptious goodies for our last Seniors Tea, also to Gabe Bayduza for entertaining us with a lively Irish jig.

Library Calendar
Our Next Storytime - March 24 at 10:30 a.m.
Seniors Tea - April 4
Special Easter Storytime - April 14.

EVEN THE BUBBLES WERE GREEN at Elk Point Library's Storytime St. Patrick's Day party. In addition to the usual bubble blowing equipment, the preschoolers tried out a variety of kitchenware with varying results.

Discover Multiculturalism - Host a foreign exchange student!

Why not bring a little of the world into your home? This fall, Europe, Asia, South America, and Australia will send us their best students. Students like Claudia, from Italy who is athletic and charming; and Nielle, from Brazil, who is thoughtful and funny and loves movies; and Henning, from Germany, who lives dogs and enjoys playing the guitar; and Reetta, from Finland, who plays the piano and the trombone, and enjoys horseback riding. They all dream of coming to Canada. When you host an exchange student, you learn all about the customs and traditions of another culture. You also get a chance to share your Canada.

As an EF Foundation host family, you can choose from among hundreds of English speaking teenagers who are eager to spend a year attending high school and becoming a member of a Canadian family. Choose the one who best complements your family's personality and interests. All students speak English, bring their own spending money and carry full insurance. Host families provide room, board and a caring environment. It's an international experience you'll cherish for the rest of your life!

Hosting an EF Foundation exchange student is an educational and cultural experience for the whole family! For more information on hosting call toll-free at 1-800-263-2825.

United Church news and notes

THIS SUNDAY, March 26: The lectionary readings for this Sunday are as follows: Exodus 20: 1-17; Psalm 19; 1 Cor. 1:18-25; and John 2:13-22. This week's gospel reading recalls one of the few times on record when Jesus lost his temper, when he drove the dealers of sacrificial cattle and pigeons out of the temple and upset the tables of the money changers. It makes us realize how human he was.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Scripture says, "I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and bring to nothing the cleverness of the clever." Where is your wise man now, your man of learning, or your subtle debater - limited all of them, to this passing age? God has made the wisdom of this world look foolish.
